series with the history of these firms tends to indicate a positive and significant relationship between the size of the firm and the number of patents. The use of historical data, however, also has limitations and is subject to the inherent biases of a historical data series. For example, there may have been significant changes in the patenting process over time, and the data may not be representative of the current patenting process. Despite these limitations, the historical data used in this study provides a valuable perspective on the relationship between firm size and patenting activity.

Bishops slam front-runners for snubbing CBCP forum

By Lito S. Salazar

MANILA, Philippines — The Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines (CBCP) has slammed the front-runners for the 2001 presidential election for snubbing a forum organized by the CBCP.

The CBCP, in a statement released here, said that the front-runners, who are the incumbent President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, Vice President Jose de Venecia, and Senate President Juan Ponce Enrile, have refused to attend the forum.

The CBCP said that the forum, which is scheduled for May 15, is a "must-attend" event for the front-runners. It said that the front-runners' refusal to attend is a "deliberate snub" of the CBCP.

The CBCP said that the forum is a "unique opportunity" for the front-runners to address the people and to discuss the issues that are important to the Filipino people. It said that the forum is a "must-attend" event for the front-runners because it is the only forum where they can address the people and discuss the issues that are important to the Filipino people.

Pope told: Your tears not enough

By the Associated Press

POPE BENEDICT XVI said Sunday that the tears of the faithful are not enough to atone for the sins of the world, and that the only way to achieve true peace is through the love of God.

The pope made the statement during his weekly Sunday address to the faithful from St. Peter's Square in Rome. He said that the world is in a state of crisis, and that the only way to overcome this crisis is through the love of God.

"The world is in a state of crisis," he said. "The only way to overcome this crisis is through the love of God. The tears of the faithful are not enough to atone for the sins of the world. The only way to achieve true peace is through the love of God."

Travelers scramble to get out of Europe

By the Associated Press

Travelers are scrambling to get out of Europe as the threat of terrorism looms. Many are leaving for the United States and other countries, while others are staying in Europe and waiting for the situation to improve.

The threat of terrorism has caused a significant increase in travel restrictions. Many airlines have canceled flights to and from Europe, and many countries have issued travel advisories. Travelers are being urged to stay in their homes and avoid travel.

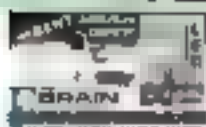

However, many travelers are still trying to get out of Europe. They are taking trains, buses, and cars to other countries. Some are going to the United States, while others are going to other parts of Europe. The situation is chaotic, and many travelers are feeling anxious.
